HURRICANE

these love comes over me like an unexpected hurricane
don’t know what todo, it changed me, in the moment i am no more the same have so much crazy feelings i never had before and they are nice and sweet what is life telling me, i hope you can explain to me when you read before i was always thinking love and that feelings are surreal

i am floating through my mind, this desire for more and for you is unconditional i know its difficult for you to understand and whats the reason its even new for me i never planed just love will know and show us, so please hold on
